

Located beside a waterfall on the south branch of the Raritan River, the Hunterdon Art Museum engages visitors with contemporary art, craft and design in ways that educate, challenge and inspire. We achieve this by presenting contemporary art exhibitions and more than 200 classes and workshops for children and adults every year. We offer ArtZone – a space where children are welcome to create art for free – and the beautiful Toshiko Takaezu Terrace that features a giant outdoor chalkboard to spark your family's creativity. Since our founding in 1952 when our charming stone building was converted from a grist mill to a Museum, we have been recognized as a leading arts institution in the region.
